

Myers LLP

Barristers & Solicitors

Firm Profile

At Myers LLP, we take pride in our commitment to training and developing future legal advocates. Our firm's belief is that regardless of practice area, strong advocacy skills are at the heart of successfully serving our clients. We aim to provide an articling experience that prepares students to become skillful litigators and fierce advocates. Our articling students immerse themselves in various practice areas, receiving hands-on assignments under the guidance of experienced lawyers.

The lawyers at Myers LLP provide legal services to clients in most areas of the law. Cornerstones of the firm's practice are Labour and Employment Law. The firm also has a significant litigation practice in Civil, Child Protection, Criminal, Family Law and Indigenous Legal Services. Students also gain experience with the Solicitors Department servicing clients with their business, real estate and wills & estates needs. Myers LLP is proud to provide students with a uniquely broad articling experience.

We believe in providing our articling students with meaningful assignments tailored to their interests and career aspirations. To provide well-rounded articles, we encourage our students to seek opportunities in all areas of the firm as these areas correspond to the CPLED course topics. The articling student's principal helps to oversee a well-rounded articling experience to develop the skills and knowledge necessary to excel in the legal profession.

Articling students are given legal research and drafting assignments. These assignments provide hands-on experience in applying legal principles to real-world scenarios and honing essential drafting skills.

Articling students also advocate on behalf of clients in the realm of Criminal Law. Students often appear in Provincial Court to conduct bail applications, remand matters and conduct interviews in the Provincial Remand Centre. There are also opportunities to junior on trials and appeals. Students appear and argue motions and assist with trials in Civil Litigation and Family Law matters. They will also have the opportunity to junior at labour arbitrations and Labour Board hearings with our Labour Law department. At Myers LLP, we believe the best way to develop advocacy skills is to be given an opportunity to advocate.

Myers LLP has an informal and friendly yet professional atmosphere. Lawyers and students are invited to attend presentations on various topics, and for less formal discussions and learning amongst lawyers. Students are encouraged to spend time with the lawyers to discuss their work and CPLED course topics.

The firm provides a competitive articling salary, along with full health and dental benefits. All costs associated with the CPLED course are paid for by the firm. In addition, fees for continuing education programs the student wishes to attend will be paid for by the firm. The firm provides two weeks of paid vacation. Many past articling students have been hired as associates after their call to the bar, but the firm cannot provide assurances in advance.
